We hear congratulations are in order - you've taken the plunge and ordered the more powerful, waterproof, headphone jack-less iPhone 7.

If our hunch is correct, it's very likely that you've sprung for either the Jet Black or Black version. Why not? They're both new colours and they look ace. But they're sure as hell not invincible.

To protect your new iBaby - regardless of its colour - you're going to want to slather it in some armour. And we've hand-picked some right here, for your viewing pleasure:

PELI ADVENTURER CASE (£30)

Peli talks big with its “You break it, we replace it... forever” lifetime guarantee.

While its simple muted style won't turn heads on the cat walk, it promises to survive almost all of life's mishaps, having been drop tested, heated and frozen multiple times during military-grade testing.
